An exchange says: "A man with two weeks of gold was in Toronto this week from Klondike. He is a New Yorker named David J. Long, and his native town is Barrie, Ont. He has done well in the Yukon and came direct from Dawson City to Ottawa, to get out a patent on a cradle device for separating gold from the dirt. Mr. Long is 40 years of age and was a passenger on the first steamer that went into Dawson. He made a remarkably quick trip from Dawson City to Toronto. He has a fine collection of nuggets, and some of his Toronto friends have received one or more mementoes of his visit." Mr. Long will be remembered by many citizens of Edmonton having been here over a year ago when a member of a northern transportation company having an office in S. Nankin's present stand. He will also be remembered in connection with the Glee club concert here, which he assisted, and with the production of "Confusion" in which he played a leading part.

DURING the temporary absence of Mr. and Mrs. Toupis one day last week, burglars broke into their residence about three miles west of St. Albert and stole watches and other jewelry, besides numerous small articles. They are delayed pending word from the attorney-general regarding the attempted murder of A. McAuley, whose would-be murderer they brought in. McAuley's wife was expected in any day with D. Noyes, Jr., but had not arrived when Mr. Matz left. It was thought by the Edmonton men that McAuley could not live two days after they left. In the event of his death the body will be interred there and a doctor will be sent out to hold a post-mortem. Further word will probably arrive on to-night's mail.
A Seattle dispatch mentions the arrival at that city of one of the members of the Philadelphia party which, under the leadership of Capt. J. H. Mason, left for the upper Liard, by way of the Peace River Crossing and Nelson river a year ago. The report states that the man reached civilization in a semi-insane condition, due to sickness, and unable to tell a coherent story of where he had been or what had become of Mason, further than that he was drowned. It will be remembered that peculiarities of this nature had been noticed in other members of the party some time ago, and that the fact was noticed by R. W. V. Vandine, who met them on the Liard after they came down the Nelson, and who wrote stating that they told of the drowning of their leader, but their stories were very peculiar and did not hang together, and the whole thing "looked fishy."

EDMONTON BULLETIN, JULY 24th, 1899.

ATHABASCA SCRIP.

Speech by Frank Oliver, M. P., House of Commons, July 14th, 1899. From Hansard.

Mr. Speaker: If the commission had delayed their operations at Slave lake until they had communicated with Edmonton, in other words sixteen days, they would have missed their other connections throughout the country, which would have been very unsatisfactory and might have produced a disastrous result. I would just add that it was very necessary from the events of the past year that an Indian treaty should be negotiated in that country. There is not a very large number of Indians, but a very considerable number of white people went into that country last year, and, unfortunately, to some extent, came into collision with the Indians, so that it was necessary that there should be an arrangement as to the rights of these Indians to avoid future collision. The practical inaccessibility of the country, up to the present time, or until last season, when the government of the Northwest Territories (and now with the assistance of the Dominion) undertook the building of a road into the Peace River country, made it impossible for the government to preserve order there except by the good-will of the Indians. Therefore, it is necessary, in the last degree, to retain the good-will of the Indians, and also of the half-breeds. The half breed population at Lesser Slave lake is about 1,000, so that they are in sufficient numbers and in a sufficiently favorable position to make more trouble than this government would care to have to deal with, and trouble that it would be very expensive to deal with. In regard to the scrip buyers who follow the commission let it be understood that it is these men and the money which they pay for the scrip, that alone makes it valuable in the eye of the half-breed. If the half-breed cannot turn the scrip into money, he does not want the scrip. And why should he? He would not consider that his title was extinguished unless he received in return something he could use.

ask again, why should he? These people who follow the commission may be very undesirable—personally, I do not know anything about it—but it is the fact of these men being prepared to pay money for that scrip that makes the scrip valuable to the half-breed, and that makes the attempt to extinguish his right effective. With all due deference to the gentlemen who differ from my view, I say that anything which detracts from the cash value of that scrip impedes the efforts that are being made by the government to extinguish the half-breed title. The circumstances which were not within the knowledge of all the parties concerned at the time, were such that the scrip had to be made a cash article, or else the attempt to wipe out the half-breed claim would be a failure. The commissioners who were sent to negotiate with the half-breeds of that country and with the Indians were well chosen, and I will take the liberty of altogether disagreeing from the contention that the commissioners have put an insult upon the government by amending the form of scrip. It is right and proper, when sending a commission into a far-off country to transact important business, that the members of that commission should be of such standing and character that they should be entitled to exercise their judgment so as to render their work effective. The fact of their having exercised their judgment, so far from reflecting discredit upon the government, reflects the greatest credit possible upon the government who appointed men of such strength of character that they were not afraid to take the action which was shown to be necessary in order to effectively carry out the work which they were sent to do. I for one, say that it was in the nature of things that this change must be made if the work of the commission was to be successful.

Further on the same subject in reply to Mr. Wallace: I would like to relieve the mind of the member (Mr. Wallace) as to the difficulties that are likely to arise because the government have not sufficiently assisted the half-breeds in the issue of this scrip. The half-breeds of that country are not asking for assistance from this government under the present circumstances. They are asking for what they consider to be their rights. They claim that they have certain rights to scrip, and when the government gives them the scrip to which they are entitled, I say, so far as my knowledge of them goes—and it goes a little further than that of any other member of this house—that there will be no trouble, and they will be satisfied.

Mr. Wallace. I would like to ask the hon. gentleman if the scrip under these circumstances has little value, would they be as well satisfied as they would if the scrip had considerable value?

Mr. Oliver. They are satisfied if the government discharges its duty to them by giving them scrip which they can dispose of to the best possible advantage. They would not be satisfied if the government gave them scrip which they could not dispose of to the best possible advantage. That is the reason why the change was made by the commissioners. If the government pays the half-breeds what the half-breeds consider they are entitled to there will be no trouble. In proof of what I say, scrip was given to the half-breeds of the Northwest Territories according to an arrangement that was made with them. It has been alleged that much of that scrip passed out of the hands of the half-breeds without reasonable value being received for it. But there is yet to be recorded a single kick from any of the half-breeds of Manitoba or the Northwest Territories who received scrip, that they wanted more, or that the government had not dealt fairly with them. These people are business people, they know what they are doing just as well as any other people. They understand a bargain just as well, they are not lacking in intelligence any more than other men; they know that if they are entitled to a certain thing and get it, the matter is settled, and they are as good people to stand by their arrangements as any other in the world.

INDIAN INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

Speech by Frank Oliver, M. P., House of Commons, July 14th. From Hansard.

Mr. Speaker. I do not wish to detain the house long, but I cannot quite agree with the airy manner in which the hon. member for West Assiniboia (Mr. Davin) dismisses the question of a vote of $200,000, which is about the amount expended on these industrial schools. That is an amount which, in the minds of the most of the members of the house, is charged against the Northwest Territories. In so far as it is chargeable against the Territories, it could be used to much greater advantage to the people of the Territories and the Dominion at large, $200,000 of an expenditure in the Northwest Territories is a very important item, worthy of the most serious consideration, particularly by members representing the Territories. It bears a very large proportion to the total amount available for the support of the schools of the whole population of the Territories, the maintenance of public roads, the carrying on of all public purposes. When we see the sum of $200,000 absorbed year after year in the ineffective attempt to educate a handful of Indian children, and when we find that that amount of money is required for the purposes of the white people, and when we find this house too anxious to provide for those necessities as they arise, when we find that, on every occasion almost when a vote is asked for the purposes of the Northwest Territories we are met with the cry to look at the large expenditures made there—when we find all this, it is a matter of importance to this house to consider whether value is received for this expenditure. The success of education of one or two Indian children, after years of experiment, is not sufficient return for this yearly expenditure of $200,000. Let the house not miss the point. There is no question about the intellectual brightness of the Indians. The Indian is just as bright intellectually as the white man. He can learn a trade just as well as the white man he can study out of books just as well, and as the hon. member for West Assiniboia has told the house, there are Indians who are just as good speakers as white men. In fact, the gift of oratory is more general amongst the Indians than among the white men. We might almost be led to believe that our friends from West Assiniboia has in his veins some trace of connection with that race. There is no question at all about that side of the Indian character. You can educate the Indian, but to make the Indian use the education you give him for his self-support is the problem that has not yet been solved in any satisfactory degree whatever, and it is only right the house should be fully informed upon that point. A few minutes ago the hon. member for West Assiniboia alluded to the fact that there were certain bright people who shone from amongst the Indians in certain lines of life. He pointed to a certain Indian doctor in this eastern country who appears to have a business ability which is not common to the Indian, as well as that intellectual ability which is common to them. There is also a lady of Indian blood whose name is prominently before the public as a poetess, and whose views, I suppose, regarding the Indian question, are entitled to some consideration. I may quote her opinion on the question of these industrial schools, and it is this, that no system of education which teaches a child to despise his parents will ever be successful in elevating the intellectual and moral sentiment of that child. That is exactly what is taught in the industrial schools, or they are not what they are represented to be.

A Seattle despatch of the 15th says: Some of the passengers who came down from the Yukon on the Alliance do not bring encouraging reports of the Cape Nome country. One of these passengers was George Case, of Ithaca, N. Y., who does not hesitate to brand Cape Nome as a fake pure and simple. "There is no gold at Cape Nome," he said: "The entire excitement has been worked up by transportation and trading companies for the purpose of taking people up there and getting money out of them. I have been in several parts of Alaska, including Dawson City and Beech Creek, and there is plenty of gold there, but there is none at Cape Nome." The peculiar part of the thing is that under date of the 14th, the Victoria Times has a couple of columns from Seattle stating that the passengers of the Alliance tell of "gold clinging to the grass roots below the tundra, gold in the sand along the thirty-mile beach washed by the Behring sea; gold creeks and gold gulches, in fact gold everywhere."

PARLIAMENTARY.

Ottawa, July 17.—The second reading of the redistribution bill will be called in the senate this afternoon, and a well defined understanding among conservative senators is that the measure shall not reach the committee stage. It will be thrown out by Sir Mackenzie Bowell and his following who have a clear arrangement to that effect.

The allowance of the Grand Trunk and Drummond County bills by Bowell was only a part of the scheme, he, being advised that to throw out the government's two most important items of legislation in one session, thereby setting at defiance the will of the electorate, would scarcely be a safe proceeding in view of the strong feeling in some quarters against the senate.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has given notice that Wednesday he will move the following resolution: "That an humble address be presented to Her Majesty the Queen setting forth that the provisions of the British North America act of 1867 respecting the powers of the senate of Canada in the making of laws are unsatisfactory, and should be brought more into harmony with the principle of popular government, and praying that Her Majesty may be pleased to recommend to the Imperial parliament a measure for the amendment of said act in such terms as will effectually make provision as follows:

"If the house of commons passes any bill which the senate rejects or fails to pass or amends in a way not accepted by the house of commons, then if the house of commons at the next following session again pass such a bill and the senate again rejects or fails to pass or amends the same in a way not accepted by the commons, the governor-general may by proclamation, convene one or more joint sittings of the members of the two houses for the further consideration of such a bill or amendment, and the question whether such bill or amendment shall pass, shall be decided by a majority of the members of the two houses present and voting, and the vote of any such joint sitting shall as respects such a bill or amendment have the same force and effect as a vote of the senate under the existing constitution."

In the commons to-day there was a beautiful wreath laid on the desk of the late Mr. Ives. Sir Charles Tupper referred to the sudden and melancholy death of Mr. Ives as a great loss to the party, to the eastern townships, and to the country. Sir Wilfrid Laurier endorsed what the leader of the opposition said, adding that both himself and Mr. Ives were young struggling lawyers on the same circuit in Quebec, and although having had keen contests at the bar, he formed a friendship with which he remained until Mr. Ives' death. On that ground he all the more readily associated himself with what had been said in sympathy with the widow and friends of the deceased.

The balance of the day was spent in supply.

Mr. Mills in the senate moved the second reading of the redistribution bill. He made an excellent speech, showing that the senate had nothing to do with it, that it was constitutional and that the late government had passed similar bills.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell moved the adjournment of the debate.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has given notice that on Thursday the house will commence sitting on Thursday at 11 o'clock, and will also sit on Saturdays.

The Drummond County railway bill was reported in the senate but provision was made to make the bill come into force only after the G. T. R. bill was passed. Senator De Boucherville is going to move the six months' hoist at the next meeting of the house and Senator Clemon is going to move amendments to the G. T. R. bill.

The postmaster-general has decided that owing to the reduction of the domestic rate of letter postage to two cents, no more than three cent letter cards, three cent stamped envelopes, or three cent stamps will be issued. Postmasters are authorized to use such as they may have in stock at the face value and to redeem at face value any that may be offered; but no new ones will be issued, and all those in stock in the department will be discharged down to two cents, and issued at that value. When the supply of these has been exhausted, new two cent red stamps, post cards and stamped envelopes will be issued and the present purple ones discontinued.

Speaker Edgar leaves to-night for Toronto and will not return this session. Deputy speaker Broderick will act for him. Sir James goes from Toronto to his summer residence at Roches Point, Lake Simcoe, for rest and fresh air, as the prolonged session has been a severe strain on him.

HAVE REACHED DAWSON.

C. de W. MacDonald is in receipt of a letter from John Wilson, a participant in the Klondike rush of last year, in which Mr. Wilson speaks of the death of A. D. Stewart and Duncan McCallum, both well known here. McCallum it will be remembered was the man engaged by the town to blast out the rocks at Grand Rapids, after which he went north. The Daisy Bell, also spoken of by Mr.

Wilson, is a steamer which formerly plied on the Saskatchewan here. The letter is as follows:

Dawson City, June 24th, '99.

I have just arrived in Dawson after experiencing a terribly rough winter in McDougall's pass in the Rocky Mountains. I succeeded in getting the steamboat Daisy Bell, which I took at Fort Smith, over the divide and steamed her down the Bell and Porcupine rivers, arriving at Fort Yukon on the 8th of June. Here I had to leave her as she could not steam up the Yukon current. I then took the steamer J. C. Power to Dawson, arriving here a few days back. Before leaving Fort McPherson last year McDougall, of Kalo, B. C., insisted on going up the Peel river although I strongly advised it was too late in the season to make the attempt. On arriving at La Pierre's I heard that McDougall was found in his tent frozen to death and that Leo, (who was with us in Edmonton), was found with both his feet frozen solid, rendering amputation to both legs near the knee imperative. This information I received from Dr. Laing, whom I overtook in the Porcupine river, and who received a letter from Fort McPherson advising him of the above; also that A. D. Stewart, late mayor and chief of police of Hamilton, Ont., was dead up the Peel river. Dr. Conley, who succeeded in getting over the divide into the Stewart, and who I met here, reports that he left fifteen or sixteen men in there who were mostly sick and would probably die or have to return to Fort McPherson. We had four deaths on the Peel river from scurvy, viz.: Geo. Thomas, 566 Halstead St., Chicago; Joseph Meyer, 121 Willow St., Woonsocket, R. I.; Harry DeBier, 388 W. 15th St., Chicago; and Geo. Springer, of Los Angeles.

McDOUGALL & SECORD VS. ROSS BROS.

At the race track on Thursday night a game of baseball was played between teams picked from McDougall & Secord's and Ross Bros' stores. The game was rather one-sided, but was nevertheless amusing. Only four innings were played on account of the poor light, the score then standing 21 to 9 in favor of McDougall & Secord. The teams were composed as follows:

McD. & S.	Ross Bros.
McClung, p.	E. Lyons,
Maroney, c.	Bucher,
Fortney, 1st b.	Huot,
Yorke, 2nd b.	Kelly,
McDougall, 3rd b.	Favel,
Osborne, a. s.	F. Ross,
Dunlop, r. f.	T. Grindley,
Shields, c. f.	Corriveau,
Fraser, i. f.	Dowsett,
Jas. Martin, referee.

PIC-NIC AT CAMILLA.

On the invitation of the settlers of Camilla, a number of Edmonton's football and baseball enthusiasts drove out to that settlement on Thursday to participate in the picnic there, and also to meet in a friendly game the football and baseball teams there. In the baseball match the teams were:

EDMONTON.	CAMILLA.
Bellamy, p.	Dolan,
Lindsay, c.	S. Ryan,
Hanna, 1st b.	Timney,
Kelly, 2nd b.	McNamara,
Goodridge, 3rd b.	Como,
Stovel, a. s.	W. Ryan,
Armstrong, c. f.	Granger,
Howey, r. f.	Granger,
Stewart, i. f.	Jacques,

Referee—McKittrick.

The score was 28 to 1 in favor of the Edmonton men, who also had an innings to spare.

In the football match the teams were more evenly matched and after a close and hard fought game the score stood 1 to 0 in favor of Edmonton. The teams lined up as follows:

EDMONTON.	CAMILLA.
Goodridge, p.	Dolan,
Ryckman, c.	Ryan,
Stewart, 1st b.	Como,
Howey, 2nd b.	Ryan,
Kelly, 3rd b.	Biggs,
Armstrong, a. s.	Ryan,
Bellamy, c. f.	McNamara,
Lowry, r. f.	Timney,
Lindsay, i. f.	Stovel,

Referee—McKittrick.

The Edmonton men speak highly of the treatment they received. A hearty and hospitable welcome was accorded them and no effort spared to make their brief visit enjoyable. At the residence of Mr. Timney they enjoyed a repast composed of every seasonable delicacy, and their visit is one they will long remember with pleasure.

A WORD ABOUT REPAIRS.

There is no article that is so closely associated with us as a Watch. It regulates all our business, and is either of the greatest value or no value whatever. A watch must either be repaired properly or ruined, and hundreds of fine watches have been utterly ruined by being practiced upon by unskilled workmen and apprentices. Having been at the jewelry and watch repairing bench for the past 12 years in the most reliable shop in some of the largest cities of EUROPE, UNITED STATES and CANADA, from which I have received diplomas and excellent references for my skill, mechanical work, which proves that I am sufficiently master of my trade. I make this class of work a distinct feature and give it my most scrupulous attention. All work entrusted to my care will be repaired expeditiously and in a superior manner, accompanied with a guarantee for twelve months. I shall do my utmost to gain the confidence of all who favor me with their patronage. One trial will prove.

Hoping to have a call from you, I remain,

Yours respectfully,

THE LYCEUM CO.

The Lyceum Co. opened a short engagement in the Robertson Hall here on Saturday night. The company was advertised to appear on Friday, but owing to the train being behind time arrived too late. Friday's bill, "Jane," was, therefore, postponed until Saturday and Saturday's bill, "The Man in Black," cancelled. For "Jane" the company had a large audience and one which seemed to derive no little amusement from the progress of the play. The piece was prefaced by scenes from Hamlet, well acted and costumed. The company this afternoon give a matinee "An Old Fool," and conclude their performance this evening by the presentation of "Othello," the first Shakespearean play ever presented here. To-morrow and Wednesday night—exhibition night—they appear in Rose Hall, Strathcona.

SASKATCHEWAN GOLD DREDGING.

The Toronto Globe, of July 18th, says: A number of Montreal capitalists have formed a company to extract gold from the bed of the Saskatchewan river. The company is to be called the Saskatchewan Gold & Platinum Prospecting, Limited. Messrs. Mayor Prefontaine, Senator Forget, R. Wilson-Smith, and Chevalier Drole are the principal Montreal shareholders. The company is being floated in England by the Finance Corporation, and the Universal Corporation, of which John H. Breton is Manager, and C. Otter, brother of Col. Otter, of Toronto, president. The stock will be placed on the London market before October. The company has in its employ two mining experts from New Zealand, Messrs. Park and Hobson, who pronounce the sand and conditions very similar to those prevailing in New Zealand, where gold is obtained from the rivers. These gentlemen have applied the most modern gold saving tables to the company's dredge, and made their first experiment last week. The result was most satisfactory, a yield of $200 being reported for one day's work. A dredge can excavate 8,500 cubic yards a day, and it is claimed that each yard contains 80 cents' worth of gold. It will be seen that there is yet much room for saving. The company calculate that their present appliances may be improved sufficiently to ensure a daily harvest of $1,000. They have 142 miles of the river under lease, and estimate that the cost of producing an ounce of gold is only $2, as compared with $8 in the Yukon.

The dredge referred to is the "Otter" now being operated up the river here.

FROM NELSON RIVER.

About twenty men from the north, including ten returning Klondikers and six of McFee's survey party, are on the way in from the Landing. Two arrived this forenoon. Their names are Thomas Peterson and John Nylander of Batte, Mont., members of the Montana party which left here on the 23rd of May 1898. They with three other outfit wintered on the Nelson and they report three deaths among the party there, from scurvy, viz.: Wm. Beran, Batte, Mont.; Henry Tottenham, Kamloops, B. C., and Jas. A. Doran, a member of another party, address unknown. Beran was taken sick about the 1st of January and he spite of plenty of nourishing food, a warm cabin and attentive care died on the 30th March. The remains were interred behind the cabin. He left no property or message. Tottenham was taken sick about the 1st of March and died on the 8th of June while his companions were trying to bring him out to civilization. The body was interred on the bank of the Nelson about twenty three miles from their winter camp. He had a letter of credit for $1,000 on the H. B. Co. and other papers showing that he had $1,417 in addition at his credit in the Bank of British Columbia, Kamloops. All the papers etc., will be turned over to N. D. Beck, Q. C., here, the public administrator.

The names of the other men who wintered on the Nelson and who are returning are: Geo. Bernard, Calgary; Wm. Gibson, Maple Creek; Pat Dorothy, Jerry O'Rourke, Jas. A. Doran, Fred Pettit, John Ridley and Chas. Ferrow.

FAREWELL TO REV. DR. NEWTON.

The basket picnic held at the residence of Rev. Dr. Newton on Thursday last was a decided success, and the Rev. Doctor might well be proud of the number of friends who gathered at his handsome grove to wish him a pleasant voyage and a safe return. A substantial sum was realized by the collection and by the sale of ice cream, and presented to the doctor by Mr. F. S. Mitchell, church warden of Christ church, Poplar lake. Mr. Mitchell made a few well chosen remarks, expressing the love and esteem in which the doctor was held in the district. In reply Dr. Newton said he sincerely regretted having to give up his work, but that through ill health he found himself unable to take the long drives to and from his appointments, but that he would always think most kindly of his congregation at Poplar lake, and of all of his friends throughout the country and town, and that he might always depend on his sympathy in time of joy or trouble. The ladies said of Christ church wish to thank all of the lady friends who helped to make the picnic a success.

THE IMPERIAL BANK.

The twenty fourth annual report of the Imperial bank of Canada is at hand, in a neatly printed 16 page folder. The report of the directors shows a substantial increase in business for the past year. Commercial loans have increased during the year by $1,338,000, and there has been an increase in deposits and circulation of $2,216,000. Deposits and circulation have advanced from $7,455,413 in 1890 to $13,368,069 in 1899, an increase in nine years of $7,862,656, or more than double. The number of shareholders in the bank has increased from 474 in 1895 to 657 in 1899. The net profits for the year, after making full provision for bad and doubtful debts and for interest on unmatured bills under discount, have enabled the directors to pay the usual dividends at the rate of 9 per cent per annum, to add one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) to the rest account, and to apply twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) in reduction of bank premiums account.

The report throughout shows a large advance in business all along the line, reflecting the merited confidence of a satisfied business public.

Williamson, wife and two daughters, Montana; J. Breward, C. Eagle, H. Morrice, England; J. Morkin, wife, five daughters and two sons, Manitoba.

FRENCH-CANADIANS IN THE NORTHWEST. Montreal Gazette.

Rev. Father Morin has just sent in his report to the department of the interior, showing what has been done in the French-Canadian centres of the Northwest during the past year. He reports that on the 1st of January last there were 620 French-Canadian families distributed at Edmonton, Morin-ville, St. Albert, Fort Saskatchewan, Stony Plain, St. Pierre, River Qui Barre, Beaumont, and Vegreville, and besides these Rev. Mr. Morin states that there are 100 families that have reached the country since the above enumeration was made. During the year 12,000 acres were under cultivation, producing 100,000 bushels of wheat, 314,000 bushels of oats and 98, 000 bushels of rye. Fields of grain, the report says, gave about an average of 100 bushels of grain per acre. The manager of the mission farm at St.
Albert raised 3,500 bushels of oats from 44 acres. Mr. Moise Constantin threshed 2,500 bushels of oats from 35 acres of land, while Mr. Hebert took 5,000 bushels from 80 acres. Besides the 12,000 acres under cultivation, they broke up 9,000 acres of prairie last year. Father Morin says that these 620 French families that have settled down in the Northwest come from the following countries: France, 20; Belgium, 20; Switzerland 7;

Quebec, 120; Ontario, 55; Manitoba,
15; British Columbia, 17; California,
2; Connecticut, 12; Dakota, 20;
Iowa, 4; Kansas, 43; Maine, 38;
Massachusetts, 42; Missouri, 2; Michigan, 25; Minnesota, 64; Montana,
23; New Hampshire, 5; New York,
10; Pennsylvania, 5; Rhode Island,
18; Washington, 2; Wisconsin, 19; Vermont, 10. It will be seen from the above that Europe has contributed 47 families, the United States 331, and Eastern Canada 207. These 620 families represent a population of 2,479.
Father Morin states that the French-Canadian farm property in the Northwest increased in value last year some 25 per cent.

EGG LAKE.

During the past two weeks we have had many heavy rains, and on one occasion considerable hail fell, but so far the hail has not done any damage in this immediate locality. Crops of all kinds are looking remarkably well, and if nothing unforeseen happens to them the yield will be much greater than last year, and of better quality.
Hay will also be very plentiful this year.

Many of our people visited Lake St. Ann last week to be present at the pilgrimage on the 12th inst. About four hundred people were present, many from distant points.

Some of the residents here who went to Lesser Slave lake last spring, have returned and report business very brisk there especially after the payment of the treaty money. They say that the majority of Indians are well satisfied with the terms of settlement, and most of them in that locality have taken treaty. The half-breed commission seems to have given very general satisfaction as well. The trail from here to Slave lake is in bad condition owing to the heavy rains and flies are very troublesome.

Mrs.
Marchal is seriously ill with inflamatory rheumatism, and but slight hopes are entertained of her recovery. Dr.
Desloges is in attendance.

A great deal of sickness is prevalent around here at present.

Several of our young people are seriously contemplating marriage in the near future.
As some of the weddings will come off next week we shall send you a complete report later on.

The Morinville
grist mill company have got their well completed and have plenty of good water. Work on the mill building will probably be commenced next week.

John Hagman, one of our prosperous farmers, has fallen heir to a legacy of some six thousand dollars left him by some friends in Europe. We congratulate him on his windfall.
